SES Kite (Residential)

We are a forward-looking company, adopting a "learning without limits" philosophy. This means that everyone working in our establishments has a passionate conviction that all our young adults are able to achieve; we are optimistic about success and accept no restriction on what is possible with the young adults in our care, whom we support to grow, develop and achieve their goals.

We believe in a 'no limits' approach to helping young adults

SES Kite (Residential) is a CQC regulated residential care provision for young adults aged 18 and above, providing accommodation and support to young adults with a range of support needs, including autism and learning disabilities, to help them further develop their life skills and move towards greater independence as they move into adulthood. The supportive environment offers nurture, guidance and time to allow young adults to flourish, giving them opportunities to access further education, employment and to build the skills they need for adult life. The aim of the provision is to deliver high-quality, person-centred support, helping young adults feel safe and secure within their surroundings while living with another young adult, both working towards greater independence.

- We believe in a 'no limits' approach to helping young adults.
- We believe in the abilities and potential of young adults.
- We believe in unconditional positive regard.
- We believe our young adults deserve fun, fulfilment and happiness.
- We believe in a 'can do' philosophy.
- We believe in success and learning from mistakes.
- We believe intelligence is multifaceted.
- We believe learning and development are lifelong processes.
- We believe creativity and imagination are the keys to developing passions and talents, and preparing for life in a rapidly changing world.
- We believe assessment of progress is based on improvements on 'previous best'.
- We are future orientated.
